CAR AND CARRIAGE COLLIDE.

Three Persons Badly Injured and Many Others Shaken Up.

Chicago, May 11.—In a collision between a car on the Chicago and Milwaukee electric railway and a carriage at Lake Bluff, J. J. Murdock, manager of the Masonic Temple, was seriously injured, J. H. Howard, a wool merchant, suffered a broken leg and Arthur J. George of San Francisco was injured internally. The trolley was making up time and the carriage was being driven at high speed to catch a train to Chicago. The trolley car was derailed and the passengers badly shaken up.

TORNADO WIPES OUT AN OKLAHOMA TOWN

FIVE HUNDRED PERSONS KILLED OR INJURED BY WIND STORM AT SNYDER.

COMMUNICATION IS CUT OFF

ONLY BRIEF REPORTS OF THE CALAMITY RECEIVED FROM STRICKEN CITY.

RESCUE TRAINS SENT OUT

SURROUNDING CITIES SEND ASSISTANCE TO THE VICTIMS OF THE STORM.

Sapulpa, I. T., May 11.—At 11:40 o'clock Wednesday night the dispatchers for the 'Frisco in this city received a report from Enid, O. T., advising that a tornado had struck Snyder, Okla., wrecking the town and killing 500 people, among whom was J. M. Egan, station agent of the 'Frisco at that town. The request came also for assistance. The dispatcher ordered a relief train with physicians to be sent from Chickasha, I. T., and Quanah, Tex. The wire between Snyder and Sapulpa went down about 10 p. m.

Snyder is a town of 1,000 people in Kiowa county, Okla., located on the 'Frisco railroad.

Guthrie, Okla., May 11.—Late reports from Hobart, Okla., and Chickasha, I. T., place the number of dead and injured in the tornado at Snyder, Okla., at 500. The storm broke over the town at 11 o'clock at night, completely demolishing it, as near as reports can be obtained.

The first news of the disaster was received at Hobart, Okla., by telephone, giving a bald statement of the tornado having struck the town. The wires, both telegraph and telephone, are prostrated and no further news has been obtained from Snyder.

It is now impossible to reach Lawton, Okla., the nearest telephone exchange to Snyder, and all telegraphic connections are reported down between that place and Snyder.

Rescue trains have started from Hobart, Okla., and Chickasha, I. T., which will arrive at Snyder during the morning.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 11.—It is reported from Hobart, via Chickasha, that between 350 and 400 people are dead at Snyder, and that bodies are scattered all over the streets and surrounding country.

The storm struck the town from the southwest, traveling north until about 100 yards from the Oklahoma City and Western railway track. Then it took a northeasterly course through the business portion of town. North of the track not a building is left standing. The first relief train sent from Hobart has arrived on the scene.

Quinlan, Okla., May 11.—A tornado swept through this town at night. Two men were killed and property was damaged to a considerable extent.

DR. KOCH ON THE STAND.

Defendant in Murder Trial Testifies in His Own Behalf.

Mankato, Minn., May 11.—Dr. George R. Koch, on trial for the murder of Dr. L. A. Gebhardt at New Ulm, was on the stand for four hours during the day in his own defense. Firmly but with reticence the witness told of his actions on the night of the murder and ended by saying that never in all the time of his business rivalry with Dr. Gebhardt had he shown or felt any enmity toward the murdered man.

While on the witness stand the accused man made the same good impression he did at the previous trial. Cool and collected, he showed no feeling except when in cross-examination by Mr. Childs, for the state, he smiled at some of the attorney's unusual questions. Little by little the attorneys for the defendant secured the young man's statement regarding his actions on the night of the murder, beginning with the first visit to the office when Dr. Koch went after the bottle of perfume, and ending with the accusation of murder made by the Brown county grand jury.

The dentist's attorneys in their questions dwelt chiefly upon the accused man's actions on the night of the murder, attempting thereby to corroborate the alibi statement given previously by himself and all the other members of the family.

EIGHTEEN PERSONS KILLED.

Anti-Jewish Disorders at Zhitomir of a Serious Nature.

Kieff, May 11.—Reports of the anti-Jewish disorders at Zhitomir, which were chiefly confined to May 7, though beginning the preceding day and continuing in minor form through May 8, indicate that they were participated in chiefly by roughs. The number of dead is eighteen, of whom thirteen were Jews and three students. According to reports received at Kieff, Zhitomir has now been pacified, martial law having been declared on May 9 and a proclamation of the government of Volhynia province has been published warning citizens that any further exhibitions of disorder will be relentlessly put down. Reports that Jews were being massacred caused great excitement throughout the country districts. Many farmers from the surrounding country came to Zhitomir, attracted by the reports. Reports received here attribute the beginning of the disorder to the murder of Chief of Police Kugaroff, but declare that that crime was due to personal reasons not connected with race hatred.

St. Petersburg, May 11.—According to private advices from Zhitomir, the fruits of the anti-Jewish riots there are 16 dead and over 100 wounded, mostly Jews. Martial law was proclaimed at Zhitomir Thursday. The city is filled with troops and order generally is restored. The same private advices bring news of a further anti-Cemetic outbreak in Gostynin, in the province of Warsaw.

NOW UP TO FRANCE

JAP PAPER SAYS SHE SHOULD OBSERVE NEUTRALITY OR SIDE WITH RUSSIA.

Tokio, May 11.—The Nichi Nichi, discussing French neutrality, says that Japan has a right to demand of Great Britain that she carry into practice the provisions of the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

"French duplicity," the Nichi Nichi says, "affords the occasion."

Continuing, the Nichi Nichi declares that the assistance given Vice Admiral Rojestvensky is a clear breach of neutrality and a violation of a definite pledge given to Japan.

The Nichi Nichi says further: "Japan is justified in assuming that France is deliberately assisting Russia. France's position as Russia's ally is entitled to some sympathy, but after France gave a definite pledge nothing remains to exonerate France from the charge of duplicity. Japan never suspected that the French republic would be guilty of double dealing. The prestige of France as a champion of civilization demands that she correct her attitude and exonerate herself of the charge of baseness."

In conclusion, the Nichi Nichi says: "Let France either publicly renounce herself on the side of Russia or manfully adhere to the principle of strict neutrality."

TO DEFEND FORMOSA.

Japs Have Strongly Fortified the Pescadore Islands.

London, May 11.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Hongkong, describing the formidable preparations for the defense of Formosa, says the Pescadore islands have been supplied with provisions and ammunition sufficient for two years and are now heavily armed with cannon.

Said to Have Evaded Japs.

London, May 11.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from St. Petersburg says it is reported there that the Russian cruisers Almaz and Jemtechug, belonging to Rear Admiral Voelkersam's division of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron, have eluded the Japanese warships and reached Vladivostok.

COUNT CASSINI TRANSFERRED.

Baron Rosen Will Succeed Him as Russian Ambassador at Washington.

St. Petersburg, May 11.—The transfer of Count Cassini to the embassy at Madrid and the nomination of Baron Rosen to succeed him as ambassador to the United States is officially confirmed here. The change was substantially decided upon some months ago, but was held in abeyance and it was expected that Count Cassini would not be relieved until the conclusion of the war with Japan. The transfer now was precipitated by the resignation of M. Schevitch, the ambassador to Madrid, who has retired from the diplomatic service and been made a member of the council of the empire. Baron Rosen's thorough acquaintance with far Eastern questions peculiarly fits him to take Count Cassini's place. The baron and baroness are now in St. Petersburg. The exact time of their departure for Washington has not been determined.

FIFTY PEOPLE KILLED

RESULT OF ANOTHER WRECK

PASSENGER TRAIN CRASHED INTO SECTION OF A DERAILED FREIGHT TRAIN.

BOTH TRAINS ARE ON FIRE

DYNAMITE IN FREIGHT CARS EXPLODES AND FIRE ADDS TO HORROR OF SCENE.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 11.—Fifty persons were killed and 100 injured as the result of a train wreck here, according to best information obtainable. An express train of the Pennsylvania railroad ran into a freight train in which there were two cars loaded with dynamite at 1:10 o'clock Thursday morning in South Harrisburg, near the plant of the Paxtand Light, Heat and Power company.

Three terrific explosions that broke windows all over the city followed and the two trains were completely wrecked and took fire. It was estimated at 3 o'clock that 50 persons were killed and 100 injured, though these figures may be too small.

It is impossible to ascertain the exact number of fatalities because the wreckage is still ablaze and unapproachable, in which many of the passengers and some members of the train crews are pinned.

Many small explosions occurred continually.

When the first explosions occurred bodies were thrown clear out of the berths in the sleeping cars, many landing down the railroad embankment and some even having been hurled into the Susquehanna river, which parallels the railroad in that locality.

All the physicians of the city procurable were summoned to work with the injured.

Firemen Unable to Render Assistance.

A fire alarm sounded and the firemen arrived, to find themselves practically helpless on the work of rescue. A police patrol wagon was commissioned as an ambulance. As many of the injured as possible were loaded into it on each trip and taken to the Harrisburg hospital, the capacity of which soon became taxed.

A special train was made up and brought injured and dying to the union station. Many of the injured were taken into private houses.

Immediately after the wreck all the passengers who could do so ran from the scenes of horror to safety from the incessant small explosions. The agonizing cries of the unfortunates were heartrending. The office of the Paxtand Light, Heat and Power company looked like a hospital.

The train was the second section of No. 19, which left Philadelphia at 11:50 Wednesday morning. There were 169 passengers in the train and the latest estimate is that fifty were killed.

The wreck was caused by a smaller wreck to the freight train, which was eastbound. Passing the plant of the Paxtand Electric company near Cedar street, an air hose burst and several cars in the middle of the train buckled up and fell across the passenger tracks at the side.

Almost at the same moment the express train, with ten coaches, dashed along and plunged into the wrecked freight cars. The boiler of the passenger locomotive blew up and the concussion caused the immediate explosion of the two cars of dynamite in the freight train.

Among the passengers were many of prominence. Mr. and Mrs. Tindell, the latter a daughter of Senator Knox, were among those reported injured.

No Return.

BANK TO RUN A SALOON.

Will Conduct Enterprise Despite Opposition of Church.

Pittsburg, May 11.—The Farmers' Deposit National bank will dispense liquor in spite of remonstrances of the First Presbyterian church, whose pastor, Rev. Maitland Alexander, said the bank president is not a proper person to conduct a semirespectable liquor saloon.

The bank was refused a license recently at the annual license court by Judge Shaffer. The church people were the principal remonstrants. Around the corner from the new restaurant built by the bank was a saloon owned by a man named Riddle. The church did not remonstrate against him and he got a license. He has sold his license, stock and good will to the Farmers' bank for $30,000, and the bank is connecting the Riddle saloon with its restaurant on Oliver avenue, just across from the First Presbyterian church.

The Farmers' bank has applied to the court to have Riddle's license transferred to the superintendent of the bank building. The church people are evidently beaten this year by the bank, but the fight is to be continued at the next license court.

A DANISH BOARHOUND.

He Was a Jealous Brute and Careful-ly Guarded His Mistress.

During a visit to a friend in the country Sir Henry Hawkins had an adventure with a boarhound which he describes in his "Reminiscences."

There was an enormous Danish boarhound which had, unperceived by us, followed Mrs. Harlstone from the library. He pushed by without ceremony and proceeded until he reached the lady, who was some distance in advance. He then carefully took the skirt of her dress with his mouth and carried it like an accomplished train bearer until she reached the bottom of the stairs and the garden, when he let go the dress and gazed as an interested spectator.

But before we parted from Mrs. Harlstone and while I was talking to her I felt my hand in the boarhound's mouth, and a pretty capacious mouth it was, for I seemed to touch nothing but his formidable fangs. So soft was the touch of his fangs that I was only just conscious my hand was in his mouth by now and then the gentlest reminder. I knew animals too well to attempt to withdraw it, and I preserved a calm more wonderful than I could have given myself credit for.

While I was wondering what the next proceeding might be Mrs. Harlstone begged me to be quite easy and on no account to show any opposition to the dog's proceedings, in which case she promised that he would lead me gently to the other side of the lawn and leave me without doing the least harm.

As I was being led away Mrs. Harlstone said: "Do exactly as he wishes. He is jealous of your talking to me, and any one who does so he leads away to the other side of the garden." Having conducted me to the remotest spot he could find, he opened his huge jaws and released my hand, wagged his tail and trotted off, much pleased with his performance.

Printers' Errors.

A reader forwards me a pleasant addition to my collection of printers' errors, says T. P.'s London Weekly. It was told him by the late C. Farquharson Findlay, for some years editor of the Dover Chronicle, as having happened to him personally. He had occasion to write of the "blind guides who strain at a gnat and swallow a camel," which appeared in print as "who strain at a quart and swallow a canal."

Did any of my readers notice, I wonder, a delightful error of this kind in one of the reviews, in which Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman was described as "brandishing a mailed fish?" It rather reminds one of the famous Spoonerism about "feeling a half warmed fish in your bosom."

TWO DECISIONS HAVE BEEN FILED

Notion for a New Trial Denied in Deer Hide Case by the Court

SOME FINE POINTS ARE RAISED

Judgment Ordered for Plaintiff in Case of A. S. Patek vs
the Western Union

Judge McClenahan has ordered judgment in two rather important cases and the orders have been filed with Clerk of Court W. A. M. Johnston. The motion for a new trial in the case of C. A. Albright as executor for Loren E. Warren, deceased, vs the Northern Pacific Express company has been denied. This case has been tried twice in the district court, both times a verdict being returned for the plaintiff. It involved the alleged damages caused for the non-delivery of some deer hides which the deceased, Warren, shipped via the express company, and outside of the damages claimed there are some fine legal points which came up for judicial notice and which will be of interest to many in Northern Minnesota where there is so much deer and moose hunting.

The point on which there was controversy was the right of the owner of the deer skins to ship them out of the state. In his memorandum Judge McClenahan stated that the case involved practically the same question disposed of in the case of Linden vs McCormick, 90 Minn., 337. The court stated that the defendant company in this case sought to distinguish the case from the Linden case because Sec. 18, Chap. 221, General Laws of 1897, prohibits the shipment out of the state of "any elk, deer, moose or caribou, or any part thereof, caught, taken or killed in this state." Conceding that it sufficiently appears that the deer from which these hides were taken were caught, taken or killed in the state, the court was unable to distinguish this case from the Linden case. The presumption is, according to the evidence, that the skins were taken lawfully and such being the case, to hold that one who had acquired the skins in good faith could not send them out of the state to be tanned—tanning being one of the necessary processes in the manufacture of the skins into mittens and gloves—would seem illogical and, in some cases, might amount to a practical deprivation of property legally acquired. If this is the case why could not this theory be applied in a case after the mittens and gloves are manufactured? In conclusion the court said: "That the skins in question were acquired in good faith is beyond controversy and the limit of the state's power, referred to in the case cited, was, in my judgment, exceeded by its agents in this instance." The plaintiff was represented by W. W. Bane and C. A. Albright and the defendant company by Polk & Polk.

An order has also been filed in the case of A. S. Patek vs the Western Union Telegraph Company. In this case the court found for the plaintiff. This case involves the much mooted question whether the construction of a telegraph or telephone pole in a public street of a city, with consent of the municipal authorities, constitutes and additional servitude for which and by which an abutment property owners' property is thereby impaired may recover damages.

The particular instance is where the Western Union erected a pole in front of the Patek block on Seventh street. The court decided that a special injury had been done here and judgment was therefore entered for the plaintiff. A stay of 20 days was ordered.

Attorney Ferguson, of Minneapolis, appeared for the defendant company and Attorney A. E. Bowe appeared for plaintiff.

Clever Young Dane Wrestler Bested Hallett in a Match at Gardner Hall Last Night, Before Fair Crowd

There was a wrestling match at Gardner hall last night between Carl Mattsson, of Minneapolis, and J. M. Hallett, of Glenwood, which was really the most interesting event that has been seen in Brainerd in a long time. The match was to have been pulled off between Mattsson and B. A. Shores, of Mankato, but the latter had a match at Superior the night before and injured his hand quite seriously. Hallett was in the city and an agreement was made to go on with him. Hallett is well known in the northwest. He sometimes wrestles under the name of Maynard.

Although Hallett got the first fall and showed some very clever work it was demonstrated beyond a doubt that he was no match at all for Mattsson.

At first Hallett seemed to be the more aggressive and did most of the work, while Mattsson sort of held on to himself, but when he did let out he demonstrated that he was a wrestler of no mean ability. He is a young man only 19 years of age but is one of the best conditioned men that ever wrestled here.

The first fall was secured by Hallett after 15 minutes and 45 seconds of wrestling. The fall was secured with a full Nelson. The young Dane started things when time was called again and he got his man in just 5 minutes and 40 seconds. The fall was with a scissors and bar hold. The next fall was secured by Mattsson after 10 minutes and 30 seconds wrestling and the third after 5 minutes and 45 seconds.

The match was thoroughly enjoyed throughout. Usually when men go to a match there is a mite of suspicion in their minds as to the match being on the square, but all thoughts in this line were dispelled last night after a few minutes work.

Hallett really got two falls, but the second could not be counted as the work was done off the mat. At the conclusion of the match Hallett said that he lost fairly; that Mattsson was the best man of the two. He said, however, that he would bet anything from $500 to $1,000 that he could throw Moth three times in succession. He claims that he has had money posted for a match with Moth for several weeks and it has not been covered yet. He says Moth is afraid to wrestle him. Hallett bars no one in his class in the United States.

There was a preliminary last night between Grant and Cole. Cole was no match for Grant as the latter weighed nearly twice as much. Grant agreed to throw Cole twice in thirty minutes. He did it very cleverly and won the plaudits of his many admirers. Cole said that he wanted to state that Grant was a comer and that he would be heard from in a short time.

Terrific Race With Death.

"Death was fast approaching," writes Ralph F. Fernandez, of Tampa, Fla., describing his fearful race with death, "as a result of liver trouble and heart disease, which had robbed me of sleep and of all interest in life. I had tried many different doctors and several medicines, but got no benefit, until I began to use Electric Bitters. So wonderful was their effect, that in three days I felt like a new man, and today I am cured of all my troubles." Guaranteed at H. P. Dunn & Co.'s drug store; price 50c.

ANOTHER $5,000 DEAL CLOSED

Judge Holland Buys the Cameron Place East of Town Yesterday

INCLUDING ABOUT 120 ACRES

Land is Said to Contain Rich Deposits of Ore and is on Edge of City

Another big realty deal was closed yesterday afternoon, Judge G. W. Holland buying the Cameron farm just east of the city of Mrs. John Cameron. This property is on the edge of the city and is said to contain rich deposits of ore. The tract embraced contains 120 acres of land, and $5,000 cash was paid for it.

It is understood that there are now but two or three pieces of land left between Brainerd and Deerwood along the Cuyuna range that has not been sold during the past few months.

Side Talks by the Office Boy.

Nature has wisely arranged matters so a fellow can neither pat his own back nor kick himself. Did you ever do some fool thing and want to kick yourself all over the lot? A kid sprung an old gag on me the other day and I went after it like a bull pup after a sick kitten. He said, "Have you seen Hazel today?" I said, "Which Hazel?" and he said "Pond's Extract." You may be tired hearing the story about Ralston $4.00 shoes, but when you wear them and find they really do you the same service that a higher priced shoe does, you'll think, "That's the sweetest story ever told." Seriously, we are all ready with our spring shoes. We'd like to have you drop in and see the new shapes, try them on and see how really swell they are. This is going to be the greatest year to get ahead in the world we've had in the west for a long time, but you want to get your feet into Ralston shoes first; then they sure can't stop you.

NORTHERN LEAGUE

In a letter from Playing Manager W. F. White he says:

"The weather is very bad this week. It is snowing today. I have signed Frank Ripley to play second. He is also a catcher and third baseman. He played with Burlington in the Iowa State League last year—has also played in the Cotton State League. He is a little fellow, but a grand little player, fast on his feet and heady. The boys have nicknamed him 'Rabbit.' "Dick Ryan at third is hard to beat. Wing is a wonderful outfielder. "I have released second baseman Floyd Foss, pitcher Hine and second baseman Basely. More will soon follow. There are still seventeen men here."

Smith, formerly catcher for the Hamline university team, but declared eligible, has been signed by "Spike" Anderson, together with Hugh Lench of the state university, to play the backstop position on the Grand Forks Northern league team. Both of these men are well known for their fast playing and hitting, and no doubt will take care of the backstop work in first class order.

Grand Forks will play Hutchinson next Sunday, and then will leave for home. They will probably stop over at Crookston or Fargo, where they will play exhibition games before the season opens, May 10.

YOUR DAILY TASK.

Bring Your Whole Self to It With All Your Powers Intact.

It makes all the difference in the world in results whether you come to your work every day with all your powers intact, with all your faculties up to the standard; whether you come with the entire man, so that you can fling your whole life into your task, or with only a part of yourself; whether you do your work as a giant or as a pygmy. Most people bring only a small part of themselves to their tasks. They cripple much of their ability by irregular living, bad habits in eating and injurious food, lack of sleep, dissipation or some other folly. They do not come to their tasks every morning whole men. A part of themselves and often a large part is somewhere else. They left their energy where they were trying to have a good time, so that they bring weakness instead of power, indifference and dullness instead of enthusiasm and alertness, to the performance of the most important duties of their lives. The man who comes to his work in the morning unrefreshed, languid and listless cannot do a good, honest day's work, and if he drags rotten days into the year how can he expect a sound career or a successful achievement?

Good work is not entirely a question of will power. Often this is impaired by a low physical standard. The quality of the work cannot be up to high water mark when every faculty, every function and every bit of your ability is affected by your physical and mental condition. You may be sure that your weakness, whatever its cause, will appear in your day's work, whether it is making books or selling them, teaching school or studying, singing or painting, chiseling statues or digging trenches.—Orison Swett Marden in Success Magazine.

Pensioning Judges in England.

It is considered an essential condition of the English court system that the judges shall be absolutely independent financially; that their salaries shall be so large and provision for their future shall upon their retirement be so ample they need at no time of their service have any monetary anxiety. There are now no fewer than eight ex-judges in receipt of total pensions amounting to $121,662.50 a year. A judge who continues on the bench after completing fifteen years' service really does his work for $7,299.75 a year, the difference between his salary and pension. The lord chancellor is entitled to a pension of $24,332.50 a year for life, however short his tenure of the chancellorship.

LONDON IN A FOG.

A Weird Day of Dense Gloom in the English Metropolis.

He knew his London well. We went forth into a fog that was of the pea soup variety. It seemed useless to wait any longer for it to clear off. The days were all alike and were darker than twilight ever dared to be. I clung to Prentice Mulford's coat sleeve, for I knew if he were once to get beyond my reach I could never hope to find him again. We groped blindly among the streets, where the atmosphere was only less palpable than the houses that walled us in. At intervals we inquired where we were, for otherwise we could never have known at all. We had to feel our way carefully and take soundings at intervals. "Here," said Prentice as we paused in space; "here is Temple Bar." I thought I saw something that might have been the ghost of an arch hewn out of the solid fog. The top of it, though it was not lofty, was lost to view. Temple Bar, now gone forever from the place where its gates once swung in the wall of the old city—it was here her gracious majesty Queen Victoria of England was wont to receive the keys of the city from the hands of the lord mayors when she drove in state to St. Paul's cathedral. We threaded Fleet street, but could not see to the farther shore.

"Here is her majesty's tower," said Prentice, but nothing of it was visible, not one stone upon another. We crossed London bridge almost without knowing it. The waters of the Thames, which are but condensed fog, were invisible from the parapet, and the steam ferries were picking their way cautiously and looking very like marine monsters in a muddy aquarium. We crawled through the tunnel for foot traffic under the Thames, which was like a hole in the fog, and for hours carried the sky about on our shoulders. It was a woolly, greasy and ill smelling sky. Our nostrils were clogged with clinders, like chimney fumes, and there were smudges all over our faces. Sometimes for a moment or two we saw a spot overhead that was like a pale red wafer, and we knew it for the sun, now lost to us. The lamps that burned all day were like glow-worms for dimness, and so we explored the wonders of the town and saw as much of it as a blind man sees, but no more.—Charles Warren Stoddard in National Magazine.

STATE THEIR POSITION

CHICAGO LABOR LEADERS HOLD

A CONFERENCE WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

FILE AN EMPHATIC PROTEST

OBJECT TO HAVING FEDERAL SOLDIERS SENT TO PRESERVE

ORDER IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, May 11.—The committee of labor men appointed to call upon President Roosevelt and lodge with him a protest against the employment of federal troops during the present teamsters' strike was granted an audience late in the afternoon. The committee consisted of Cornelius P. Shea, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters; Charles Dold, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor; Joseph O'Neil, vice president of the Chicago Federation of Labor; T. P. Quinn, a member of the Canvassers' union, and T. Rickett, president of the Garment Workers' International union. Outside of the members of the committee and President Roosevelt and Secretary Loeb, no one was present during the conference. The following account of what passed in the room was given out by Secretary Loeb:

After presenting the protest to the president, Mr. Shea, acting as spokesman, said:

"We are here as a committee to present to you a statement stating our position in this controversy between the employers' association and the teamsters' association. We have understood that they had asked your aid for bringing troops into Chicago. We want to present our position to you."

Mr. Quinn said: "It will take about ten minutes to read this; perhaps we had better leave it with you."

Protest Strongly Worded.

The protest against the sending of federal troops to Chicago was strongly worded and charged that the employers have repeatedly spurned the request of the labor leaders for arbitration and declared the employers openly boasted that federal troops would back up the employers' side of the controversy. Declaring that the workers will abide by the decision of an arbitrator, even should that decision fail to be all that might be hoped for, the appeal to the president closed with the request that he consider all the facts in the case before he permits any abuse of federal power in complying with a request for troops.

The president said that he would read it at once, and after doing so said:

"I have read the petition you have presented to me, the conclusion of which is a request for a hearing before any action be taken by the federal president relating to the Chicago strike situation. As yet no suggestion of any kind has come to me from any source that I should take any action. Of the merits of the case I am wholly ignorant. I have no knowledge of what the situation is or of what steps should be taken to end it. I feel, however, that in view of one statement, or series of statements, in your letter I ought to say this: I regret that you should in the letter have spoken at all of the use of the federal army as you have there spoken. No request has been made to me for action by the federal government, but at the same time, Mr. Shea, as you have in this communication brought up that fact, I want to say one thing with all the emphasis in my power. In upholding law and order, in doing what he is able to do to suppress mob violence in any shape or way, the mayor of Chicago, Mayor Dunne, has my hearty support. I am glad to be able to say this to you gentlemen, before I say it to any other body. Now let me repeat that I know nothing of the facts of the situation; I know nothing of the points at issue; what I have to say is based purely upon what I regard as the unfortunate phrasing of a letter presented to the president of the United States. I have not been called upon to interfere in any way, but you must not misunderstand my attitude. In every effort of Mayor Dunne to prevent violence by mobs or individuals, to see that the laws are obeyed and that order is preserved, he has the hearty support of the president of the United States, and in my judgment he should have that of every good citizen of the United States.

Of the Rights or Wrongs

"Now gentlemen, it has been a great pleasure to see you, and I am glad to have had the chance to say this to you."

President Shea of the teamsters' union then explained the position of the strikers, deprecating mob violence and opposing the use of troops.

The president replied to this by repeating his previous statement with emphasis. This closed the interview and the committee withdrew.

It was generally understood by both sides to the strike that there would be no disturbances while President Roosevelt was in the city. Notwithstanding this passive agreement, there were a number of outbreaks, one of them taking place on Michigan avenue, a short time after President Roosevelt had passed along, and in which a number of men were cut and shot, three of them badly injured.

The employers sent out more wagons during the day, with fewer guards than at any previous time.

STOCKGROWERS ORGANIZE.

New Association Formed at Meeting in Denver.

Denver, May 11.—The American Stockgrowers' association during the day adopted a constitution and by-laws.

The new association is to be composed of growers and dealers in cattle, sheep and horses. The basis of representation in the organization is individual.

The executive committee, however, is authorized to pass upon and admit representatives of stock associations.

The following officers were elected: President, Murdo McKenzie, Trinidad; first vice president, A. E. Derleques, Denver; second vice president, James Boardman, Helena.

The president was authorized to appoint an executive committee of thirty members. This committee will appoint the secretary and the treasurer.

Look Out for These Swindlers.

Chicago, May 11.—Two or more men, using the names Anderson, Craft and Todd have been engaged fraudulently for two months in soliciting subscriptions for magazines and other periodicals in the name of the American Press Association as subscription agent. They have operated here, in Omaha, South Omaha, Council Bluffs, Sioux City and other places. At an earlier date they had worked the Eastern states. The American Press Association is not a subscription agency; any one soliciting subscriptions in its name is necessarily a swindler.

DINED BY DEMOCRATS

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT GUEST

OF HONOR AT NOTABLE BANQUET IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, May 11.—Honoring and honored by his political foes, but personal friends, President Roosevelt was at night the chief guest at a magnificent banquet tendered to him by the Iroquois club, the leading Democratic organization of Illinois. Surrounded by men who have fought against him in two national campaigns, who deplore many of his avowed policies and who have frowned upon some of his political actions, the president was cheered to the echo as he entered and left the banquet hall, was applauded with enthusiasm throughout his address and at its close and was given to understand that in his case political differences were not a personal issue.

The banquet, which was from first to last an ovation, was given entirely by Democrats to the leader of their political opponents and many of the kindly personal references made by the speakers of the evening, the majority of whom are men of Democratic faith, deeply touched the president. In his manner and words he evinced throughout the evening a deep gratification at the warmth of his reception from men who have fought him in political battles before now and are ready to fight him again tomorrow if they considered it necessary. Throughout the entire evening, however, ran the dominant note of admiration for the character of and friendship for the man himself.

The great banquet hall of the Auditorium, which has been the scene of many notable gatherings, never held one more representative than that which assembled there to do honor to President Roosevelt. At the president's table were Mayor Edward F. Dunne, Charles F. Gunther, president of the Iroquois club; James Hamilton Lewis, who acted as toastmaster; Samuel Alschuler, J. Murray Tuley, Sheriff Thomas F. Barrett and other Democrats. Of the Republicans there were at the same table Governor Deneen, Senator A. J. Hopkins, Judge C. C. Kohlsaat, Judge K. W. Landis and many others.

Other Men Who Spoke.

Besides the president, J. Hamilton Lewis, C. F. Gunther, Mayor Dunne, J. M. Dickinson and Governor Deneen delivered addresses.

President Roosevelt was in Chicago for twelve and one-half hours, and of that time eleven and one-half hours were given to the public. From his arrival until his departure the programme outlined for his entertainment was carried through without delay, and without unpleasant feature or untoward incident.

The president's train reached the city at almost exactly noon. From 12:30 until 2:30 he was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Merchants' club at the Auditorium hotel. He then went to the Hamilton club and in addition to greeting the members of that organization, he held a reception for the Harvard graduates of Chicago, who called upon him 150 strong.

The president then returned to the Auditorium hotel, where he was allowed to rest until a few minutes before 6 o'clock. At 6 o'clock he entered the Fine Arts building, where for an hour he received the members of the Iroquois club and their friends. At 7 o'clock he entered the banquet hall, where he remained until 11 o'clock, when he left the hall for his room to prepare for the trip to the depot of the Pennsylvania road. Although a smart rain was falling a large crowd was gathered around the hotel entrance to see the president depart.

At 12:10 promptly the train pulled out for Washington.

Earthquake in Mexico.

FRUIT FROM POTATOES

Pomato the Luscious Creation of Luther Burbank.

DECLARED TO BE VERY PALATABLE

Ten Thousand Varieties of Tubers Are Used to Produce a Vegetable That May Revolutionize the Potato World—Preserve Made From the Pomato Is Pronounced Excellent.

Luther Burbank, the California horticulturist, is making some wonderful experiments to produce new potatoes, tubers that may eclipse any other yet given to man, says the Santa Rosa (Cal.) correspondent of the San Francisco Examiner. It may seem almost incomprehensible to the average reader should a statement be made that Mr. Burbank has at this present moment more than 10,000 varieties of potatoes with which he is experimenting. Yet such is the fact. And out of these thousands of all sorts and conditions of tubers are to come the newer and better varieties that may completely revolutionize the potato world.

Another wonderful creation and production of Burbank which will come in under the head of the potato experiments, but is even more wonderful, is this: Burbank has produced a "potato fruit." Briefly summarized, the evolution is a matter of planting a tuber and gathering from the potato vine a luscious white fruit, one that is delightfully palatable and makes excellent preserve. There are people in Santa Rosa who have eaten the potato fruit and its preserve and are delighted with it.

Mr. Burbank has named the potato fruit "pomato." When compared with a tomato the pomato is smaller in size and its meat is white instead of red. It is higher flavored. In other words, its flavor is that of a fruit rather than a vegetable. Burbank speaks of the creation of the pomato as resulting from the turning of the plant life in an opposite direction.

"Instead of cultivating tubers we now cultivate fruit, and the tubers are of secondary consideration," he says. "the fruit on the vine being the main object."

The pomato has not been sent out as yet. It must be more nearly perfect before it leaves its creator's hands for the world at large.

But to return to the potato experiments. Chief among the experimental work with the tubers was and is the crossing of the Solanum commersoni, a wild species of the potato which grows on the Mercedes river, in South America, with the common potato. The aforementioned potato was discovered some ten years ago, and specimens were taken to Paris, and for almost a decade Dr. Heckel studied and tried to hybridize it. Finally he sent Luther Burbank a single eye, and twelve months after the distinguished scientist commenced his experiments he had secured 120 hybrid seedlings from it.

Burbank is also experimenting with another new species of tuber—the Solanum magli, which grows on the west coast of South America in the high mountains. He also has other varieties, including the hardy potatoes that grow in some parts of the mountains in Arizona, in Central America and in the high mountainous country of old Mexico. The hardy qualities of these wild potatoes, so to speak, are being combined with the ordinary tuber, which has to a certain extent almost run its race of survival.

Here is the kind of new potato Mr. Burbank will produce: It will be better in quality, better in flavor, more productive and of more even size, so as to do away with small potatoes altogether, and, then, reserving the best quality and most important to the last, a potato that will resist the various diseases known to these tubers. The resistant feature, Mr. Burbank said, is the most difficult of the creative work.

Mr. Burbank further explained that the common potato, the Solanum tuberosum, has practically lost the power to produce seed balls. Crossing the old varieties with the new ones will necessarily result in the introduction of new varieties that will have new qualities. "About how many varieties of potatoes have you on hand now, Mr. Burbank," was asked, "with which you are experimenting to produce the new potatoes?"

"Over 10,000," was the ready response. Most of the 10,000 varieties are hybrid seedlings of Mr. Burbank's own creation. These have been produced by crossing, followed by careful inspection, testing and selection. Mr. Burbank recently commenced the planting of the 10,000 varieties on his experimental grounds. The potatoes are of all kinds and shapes, some round, some square, some long, some short, of all colors of the rainbow. There are pure white tubers and black ones. Pink, red, crimson, purple, yellow, are among the colors of the potatoes that are being planted. When the harvest time comes in the fall possibly all but a hundred varieties out of the 10,000 may be rejected, and the following year probably this number will be reduced two-thirds, and so on until perfection is attained.

It will take two or three years at least, Mr. Burbank said, to produce the new potato, as all the varieties must be put through the testing process.

Wireless Telegraphy in Spring.

How the winds of May
Make the poplars laugh
In a lady's way!
How the breezy day
Can telegraph
In petals gay
What the orchards say!
No need the springtime has of wires
To send abroad its bright desires.

HOLLAND AND GATES CONTROL.

Kansas City Southern Railway No Longer a Harriman Property.

Kansas City, Mo., May 11.—The fight for control of the Kansas City Southern railway has been ended and important changes in the management and future conduct of the property have been made, according to information obtained from reliable sources. It is stated that what is known as the Holland interests and John W. Gates have secured control of the stock held by E. H. Harriman. These interests will elect a full board of thirteen directors at the annual meeting to be held in Kansas City May 17.

Stuart R. Knott will be retired as president and will be succeeded by J. A. Edson, now general manager of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton.

The future of the Kansas City Southern is definitely provided for. The road will be operated in connection with one of the north grain carrying lines, the Burlington or the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul with the odds in favor of the Burlington.

THE AREA OF WINTER WHEAT.

Smaller Than That of Last Fall But Condition Is Good.

Washington, May 11.—Returns to the chief of the bureau of statistics of the department of agriculture made up to May 1 show the area under winter wheat in cultivation on that date to have been about 29,723,000 acres. This is 1,422,000 acres, or 4.6 per cent, less than the area sown last fall, and 2,858,000 acres, or 10.6 per cent, more than the area of winter wheat harvested last year. Of the area abandoned or plowed under, 356,000 acres are reported from Kansas, 205,000 acres (including cutting for hay) from California and 102,000 acres from Missouri.

For the 29,723,000 acres remaining under cultivation the average condition on May 1 was 92.5 against a condition of 91.6 on April 1 for the entire acreage sown; of 76.5 for the area remaining under cultivation on May 1, 1904, and of 83.7 the mean of the May averages of the past ten years.
